Membership in the American Artists Professional League

The American Artists Professional League, Inc. was organized in 1928 to help the artists of the country solve their professional problems. It has a long record of constructive help, such as setting standards of quality for pigments and promoting competent understandable art.

There are five kinds of membership: Artist, Fellow, Patron, Sponsor and Benefactor.

Artist members are those who have been approved by the Membership Committee of the National Board of Directors.

Fellows are our top-ranking active members. After becoming an Artist Member and then being accepted in our Grand National Exhibition for three years, not necessarily consecutively, an Artist Member automatically becomes a Fellow.

Patrons, Sponsors and Benefactors are those who consider our high objectives worthy of backing and would like to make a donation to our efforts through the American Artists Fund, the charitable, educational adjunct of the A.A.P.L. Coherent fine art urgently needs the solid support of American art patrons.

Contribution levels for Patron, Sponsor or Benefactor membership are as follows:

Patron Member	--	$25
Sponsor Member	--	$50
Benefactor Member	--	$100 or more

Patron, Sponsor and Benefactor Membership is fully tax deductible. Make all checks payable to the American Artists Fund and mail

Meet Our Jurors

It has long been our policy to obtain the finest judges who possess the highest professional skills, and this year is no exception. We are pleased to present the following profiles of our esteemed panel of judges:

Ron Beuzenburg is a figurative sculptor. He is committed to sculpting the figure because of his fascination with human anatomy as an aspect of the compelling and ubiquitous beauty of nature. Dance is a strong influence on his work, both thematically and by heightening his understanding of anatomy, gesture, and movement. Although he works exclusively in terra cotta, his sculptures are ultimately transformed into bronze.

Mr. Beuzenburg is an elected member of the National Sculpture Society, an Exhibiting Artist Member of the National Arts Club, and an elected member of the Audubon Artists. In addition, he serves on the Board of Trustees for the Artists' Fellowship, and is the Director of Sculpture for the Allied Artists of America.

He has won awards from The National Arts Club, National Sculpture Society and Allied Artists of America. He has exhibited at the Butler Institute of American Art in Youngstown, Ohio, Brookgreen Gardens in South Carolina, and The Washington Ballet.

Charles McVicker has been a painter and illustrator for more than 30 years. His work has appeared in many juried exhibitions including the American Watercolor Society, Audubon Artists, and the National Society of Painters in Acrylic and Casein. His paintings are in permanent collections of the U.S. Capitol, Princeton University, the Dupont Corporation, and Johnson & Johnson, as well as many private and corporate collections.

Mr. McVicker is a member of many art societies including the American and National Watercolor Societies, and the Watercolor USA Honor Society. He is past president of the Society of Illustrators.

Mr. McVicker is listed in "Who's Who in America," and "Who's Who in American Art." He has held one-person shows in New York City and Princeton, New Jersey, and has won many awards in juried exhibitions.

John Howard Sanden is one of the nation's leading portrait artists. He has completed more than 500 commissioned portraits of leading figures in government, business, education and the professions. He has written five books on portrait painting, and produced numerous instructional videos. Mr. Sanden has lectured and taught at the Art Students League of New York for almost 30 years, and has conducted nationwide seminars, workshops, and master classes.

In 1993, Mr. Sanden received the prestigious John Singer Sargent Medal for Lifetime Achievement from the American Society of Portrait Artists. This past year, he was awarded the Lifetime Achievement Award from the Portrait Brokers of America.

Mr. Sanden founded The Portrait Institute in 1974, which has evolved into a production entity for instructional videos. In 1979, he launched the National Portrait Seminar which grew to be the largest art seminar program in America and continued through 1993. He is also the founder of The New York Portrait Artists Forum (1993), The Sargent Society in New York (1995), and Portrait Clubs of America (2003).

He is currently at work on a series of four large paintings for an African client, and maintaining his regular schedule of portrait commissions which include the former Attorney General of the United States, John Ashcroft.

CREATED IN 1928 BY DEDICATED ARTISTS OF STATURE FOR THE PROTECTION OF ARTISTS' INTERESTS, AND TRADITIONAL REALISM IN AMERICAN ART.

THE AMERICAN ARTISTS PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE

In January 1928, F. Ballard Williams, Assistant Treasurer of the National Academy of Design in New York, called a meeting of fifteen members of the Salmagundi Club. The purpose: to discuss the need for a national organization to meet the increasing interests in traditional realism in American art. Most attending were prominent academicians of their day. The attendees all agreed that an organization designed to protect artists' interests and promote traditional American art was necessary and The American Artists Professional League (AAPL) was born.

The AAPL first focused on the issue of obtaining commissions of official portraits for American Artists. By using its national stature, the AAPL influenced a rider to a Congressional Bill stipulating that all official portraits paid for with taxpayers' dollars were to be painted by American artists, a fact that remains in effect to this day.

Another milestone for the organization was the improvement of the chemical and physical purity of artists' pigments. By securing a fund from the Carnegie Corporation Endowment Fund, a program of color pigment research was established for the AAPL. It was completed in 1932, making the AAPL the country's leading authority on artists' pigments at that time. The AAPL was also instrumental in establishing and securing the U.S. Bureau of Standards original set of government-sponsored standards for artists' colors, updated in 1962.

In its ongoing effort to promote and encourage artists specializing in realistic art forms, the AAPL has staged a Grand National Exhibition for over 70 years. Each year, hundreds of applicants from all 50 states in all media submit their work for review by a selection committee consisting of professional artists in the fields of oil, watermedia, pastel and graphics and sculpture.

By Board resolution in 1958, the AAPL created the American Artists Fund, an arm of the organization specifically designed for educational and charitable purposes. Through private and corporate donations and contributions to the Fund, the AAPL sponsors its Grand National Exhibition and awards scholarships to college level students studying American art. This year, the AAPL will award over $10,000 in prizes to exhibitors and has marked $2,000 for college scholarships.

The AAPL, with approximately 1,000 members nationwide, is headquartered at the Salmagundi Club, 47 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York 10003, Telephone/Fax (212) 645-1345; e-mail: AAPLInc@aol.com. Visit our website at: http://www.americanartistsprofessionalleague.org.
